

Terms and Conditions of Use for EpiMolBio v0.1

EpiMolBio is a free bioinformatics program aimed at research projects for the analysis of genetic and protein sequences. This software allows the analysis of genetic sequences and provides information on their structure, function, and evolution.

Access to epimolbio.com and the use of EpiMolBio are free for users. By using the EpiMolBio program, users agree to properly reference it in their publications as indicated on the epimolbio.com website.

EpiMolBio is not a diagnostic program and does not replace the advice of a medical professional regarding health-related matters. Users may not use EpiMolBio for clinical, commercial, or profit-seeking purposes. Modifications or versions of EpiMolBio cannot be made without the express authorization of its owners.

EpiMolBio incorporates software tools developed by third parties, such as MUSCLE and BIOJAVA. By using EpiMolBio, users agree to understand the terms of use of these applications and agree to comply with them. EpiMolBio is not responsible for actions taken by third parties.

The program has undergone rigorous testing to detect and correct errors. Users are advised that EpiMolBio is not responsible for the results generated by the program or for any misuse of them by users. We appreciate being informed of any issues via the contact form to address them promptly.

EpiMolBio is not liable for any loss or damage that may arise from the use or inability to use the program for genetic sequence analysis. Users assume all responsibility and risk associated with such use.

The owners of EpiMolBio are Roberto Reinosa Fernández and the Foundation for Biomedical Research of Ramón y Cajal University Hospital (FIBIOHRC). The authors of EpiMolBio are Roberto Reinosa Fernández, África Holguín, and Paloma Troyano Hernández, who belong to the Molecular Epidemiology Laboratory of HIV-1 (EpiMolVIH) at the Ramón y Cajal Health Research Institute (IRYCIS) in Ramón y Cajal University Hospital (Madrid, Spain).

EpiMolBio is registered under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 License (registration number 2305114294344). The name EpiMolBio and its logo are in the process of trademark registration.

All contents of EpiMolBio and epimolbio.com (texts, audiovisual contents, source code, graphic design, signs, logos, trademarks, databases, software programs, editing, programming, compilation, and other elements and contents necessary for its operation) are the property of the owners of EpiMolBio. Any unauthorized use of these contents will be considered a breach of intellectual or industrial property rights and may lead to legal consequences.

EpiMolBio is downloaded from the epimolbio.com page onto the user's computer, where it runs locally for genetic sequence analysis. The program does not collect or store any user data.

The terms of use of EpiMolBio may be modified by the owner. In such a case, this change will be notified through the program itself and on its website epimolbio.com.